

COMPONENTS

Vegetation Studio is designed to be component based. Bigger features will be implemented using separate components. This makes it easy to add and remove features based on your needs and also makes it easier to make 3rd party plugins to support special features.