COMPONENTS

Vegetation Studio is designed to be component based. Bigger features will is implemented using separate components. This makes it easy to add and remove features based on you needs and also makes it easier to make 3rd party plugins to support special features.